Glorious recipient.

You and your fellow warriors may or may not remember me, or the Order I am about to write of. I hear that Clan Stormreaver still lives on, but has suffered during these decades. Such was the situation with the Order.

Caina, the Dark Jewel of the North, lies in ruins. However, the Ebon Skull has resurfaced in our world. Already those brave enough are gathering, to heed the Skull's call. I wish to discuss with the chieftains of the Stormreavers, regarding the past the Clan shares with the Order.

There is much to discuss. I hope you find my proposal acceptable, and will reply or send a messenger.

Either will be recieved by one of the newly formed Order in the shadows of Umbra.
